Assistant Professor: Voice (soprano/mezzo-soprano preferred)

The Sunderman Conservatory of Music at Gettysburg College requests applications for a Coordinator of Vocal Studies: Assistant Professor of Music, tenure-track.

POSITION DESCRIPTION: We seek a coordinator of vocal studies with a strong record of teaching and performance whose primary responsibilities include teaching applied voice for music majors/minors and directing opera workshop. Additional teaching responsibilities may include vocal literature, vocal pedagogy, diction, chamber music, and other assignments commensurate with the candidate’s strengths and institutional needs. As coordinator of vocal studies, the successful candidate will collaborate with vocal and choral faculty/staff to assign studio placements, organize and lead weekly voice studio classes, and audition non-major and minor voice students. As an active performer, the successful candidate is expected to provide an exemplary artistic model through solo and/or collaborative performance on and off campus. Academic advising and participation in college governance and music admissions activities (i.e., recruiting and auditioning students) is expected of all faculty. Candidates may learn more about how we attract strong musicians and scholars who thrive in the stimulating environment of a liberal arts college by visiting our website: http://www.gettysburg.edu/music.

Requirements: Evidence of significant performance and collegiate teaching. Doctoral degree in performance preferred; MM with equivalent experience and expertise considered.

Starting date: August 2015

Salary range: Commensurate with background and experience.

Application Process: Review of applications will begin February 13, 2015 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should send a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, links to online recordings of recent performances, contact information for at least three references, and a one-page statement of philosophy of undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting. Letters of recommendation and official transcripts will be requested later in the application process. Mail materials in hard copy to Voice Search Committee c/o Shelley Stoner, Administrative Assistant, Sunderman Conservatory, Gettysburg College, Campus Box 403, 300 North Washington Street, Gettysburg, PA 17325.
