Requirements for the psychology major include: Psychology 101, 205, 206, 341; two advanced laboratories, one from each of the following groups: A) 315, 316, 317, 336, or 338 and B) 310, 314, 321, 327, or 328; four additional 200-level psychology courses, two from each of the following groups: A) 215, 216, 236, 237, 238 and B) 210, 214, 221, 222, 225, 226; and two laboratory courses in the Division of Natural Sciences from among those that satisfy the natural science requirement. Psychology 101 is a prerequisite for all psychology courses. Psychology 205 and 206 are prerequisites for all lab courses. Majors must earn a grade of C or better in both Psychology 205 and 206. Psychology 205 may not be repeated.