Trip Overview

Activity: Kayaking  Difficulty Level: 🌟🌟🌟🌟

Offered by the Office of Experiential Education, this student-led wilderness program provides incoming first-years the opportunity to connect through a novel, shared experience. Though it has evolved in the twenty years since inception, Ascent continues to be a favorite tradition at the college—and for good reason. Students often enter this program surrounded by new faces, but return to campus five days later with meaningful friendships, a strong support network, and a better understanding of what they can accomplish at Gettysburg College.

The river and reservoirs of the Allegheny National Forest are some of Pennsylvania’s most sought after kayaking locations. With its surrounding pristine forests, placid waters, and access to dozens of scenic day hikes, the Allegheny Reservoir may well be the best of the best. This is the perfect location and time to learn a new skill, make good friends, and enjoy the beauty of Northern PA. On this trip participants will learn the skills necessary to maneuver their kayak, perform rescues, how to pack their boat with all of their equipment, and all of the backcountry knowledge covered in our backpacking programs.

Kayaking the Allegheny Reservoir
August 20-25, 2015

The Paddle: Paddling distance will range from 5-10 miles a day, and participants will transport all of their equipment in kayaks. Average time paddling daily will range from 3-6 hours, which includes stops for lunch, breaks and enjoying our surroundings.

Group Size: The trip consists of two to three GRAB staff members from the Office of Experiential Education and 6-8 first year participants.

Accommodations: You will move into your residence hall on Wednesday, and can either spend the night in your room or with your parents. You will sleep in your new residence hall on Thursday after your family leaves campus. You will spend the next four nights in a tent with your group mates.

Meals: Before trips depart, all participants will enjoy a family reception luncheon on Thursday, a group dinner on Thursday night, and breakfast in Gettysburg College’s dining hall Friday morning. Meals for the duration of the trip will be prepared by participants on backcountry stoves. Once we return there will be a celebration barbecue on campus for all Ascent participants.

Weather: The weather can be variable during this time of year in the mountains, but expect average temperatures from the low 50s at night to the low 80s during the day. Please bring the recommended clothing to layer and protect yourself from the elements in all conditions.

Physical Preparations: The best way to prepare for this trip is to stay active. Jogging, sports, or walking 3-5 miles a few times a week will all increase your enjoyment once in the field.

Communication & Emergencies: Our trip locations often have cell service, but some sections may be spotty. The staff will carry a cell phone in the event of an emergency, however we will not completely rely on the service, and the group needs to know they may be without communication at times. We develop contingencies and have specific information for emergencies, but we are also aware that based on location and access it may take time to contact or reach definitive medical care, should the need arise. Although participants are permitted to carry phones, most choose to leave technology behind to more fully immerse themselves in the experience.

Health and Medical & Release of Liability: Each participant is asked to fill out a Health and Medical form for this trip. We request that you are truthful with your medical information and speak with your GRAB staff facilitator about any concerns or pre-existing conditions. In addition, we want to inform you that you will be asked to sign our indemnity form, and that you are aware that all Gettysburg College policies and procedures apply to this trip.

Medical Kit and Medicine: It is our top priority to mitigate risk on these experiences, but we need your assistance to inform us about your background, so we can properly prepare together. While in the field, we carry a medical and trauma kit. The medical kit has basic bandaging and wound care items, whereas our trauma kit has basic splinting and medicines such as aspirin, anti-diarrheal, epinephrine, Benadryl. We ask that you have with you your prescription medicine that you need on a daily/weekly basis, and that you transport it in its original container/bottle with your name and dosage. It is your responsibility to manage your own medication. For those with strong allergies that require medication, it is very important that you bring extra epinephrine or necessary medication in the event that yours becomes lost or broken.
