

Adams County, PA Local Foods Resource List

September 2008

Why Buy Local Food?

- Tastes great
- Fresh
- Supports local economy
- Better for the environment than food transported many miles
- Keeps you in touch with the seasons
- Connects you with the sources of your food
- Provides the opportunity to try many varieties of foods
- Helps preserve local farmland

How to Use this List

- Look for sources of local foods near where you live and / or travel-- call for hours of operation where not specified.
- Buy food that is in season locally— if you see an item not in season locally, ask the vendor the source of the item.
- Enjoy the opportunities to meet the people producing the food you eat.
- Look for an on-line version of this list, which will be periodically updated: <http://adamscountylocalfoods.wetpaint.com>
- To report corrections/additions to the information below and / or to get involved with local foods activities, contact Audrey Hess fredaud@copper.net or (717)334-8957.

Community-Supported Agriculture (Members or "share-holders" of the farm or garden pledge in advance to cover the anticipated costs of the farm operation and farmer's salary. In return, they receive shares in the farm's bounty throughout the growing season, as well as satisfaction gained from reconnecting to the land and participating directly in food production. To become a member prior to a given season, contact the farmers.)
