HAPPY BIRTHDAY, G-BURG: Gettysburg College celebrates its 182nd birthday on April 7, and here are a few things you can do to celebrate the occasion.

- Tune in at 11:50 a.m. (EDT) on April 7 to watch/hear live streaming video of the Glatfelter Bells chiming 18 times (one per decade, kind of like candles on a birthday cake once you reach a certain age…). Nothing like the sound of those Glatfelter bells for nostalgic value!
- Wear your best and brightest Orange & Blue that day, and post pictures of your attire via your favorite social media channels. Tag your posts with #GburgFW.
- Belt out the alma mater during your commute to work/school (now THAT would be some nice video to see!).
- Make a “birthday gift” to the College ($18.32, $183.20 and $1,832 are all nice, symbolic numbers).

GETTYSBURG GREATS IN THE NEWS:

- Cory Weissman ’12 was featured in the Asbury Park Press following the premiere of the movie 1000 to 1: The Cory Weissman Story, which chronicles his fight back from a devastating stroke suffered as a freshman.
- Cory’s teammate on the basketball court, Alex Zurn ’13, is playing hoops in Ireland, where he’s also going to grad school. Read more.
- Christiana Giordano ’10 was quoted in a NY Post story about celebrity fan groups on social media.
- Bill ’98 and Erin (Hardy ’99) Burns helped lead a successful social media campaign that resulted in the maker of an experimental drug releasing it for the treatment of their seriously ill nephew, Josh. Read more of the remarkable story.
- As far as we know, no Gettysburg graduate has won an Academy Award (though if we’re wrong, please let us know!). That said, the daughter of John Anderson ’67, Kristen Anderson-Lopez, won this year’s Academy Award for co-writing (with husband Robert Lopez) “Let It Go” from the movie Frozen. Read more, including the story about their rhyming acceptance speech.
- Gettysburgians live and work all around the globe doing interesting things. Read about a few of them.

AROUND TOWN & CAMPUS:

- A complete schedule and online registration are now available for Alumni College & Reunion Weekend (May 29-June 1). In addition, afternoon playing spots are still available.
for the Orange & Blue Golf Classic on May 30.

- The Gettysburg Festival will be hosted on campus June 11-15. Music, art and culinary delights will all be part of the event, which will coincide with the first Alumni Family Weekend, June 13-15. Learn more about Alumni Family Weekend – designed for alums with kids (up to 18) – and register today!
- Four G-burg swimmers – juniors Stu Cubbison, Michael Harmon, Ashton Leyens and Jason Potter – earned multiple All-America honors for their performance at NCAA Div. III Nationals. Potter led the way with four All-America swims, including a third-place finish in the 50 free and a leg on the bronze-medal winning 400 free relay. Read more about the Bullets, who finished 16th nationally as a team thanks to the quartet’s effort.
- The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra performed an orchestral composition by Gettysburg College and Sunderman Conservatory student Jeff Binner ’14. Learn more.
- John Campo, in this 28th year as skipper of the G-burg baseball team, reached the 500-win plateau following his team’s 13th win of the season last week. The Bullets are currently 14-3 and riding an 11-game winning streak. Get the latest on G-burg sports.
- Speaking of baseball, read Philosophy prof. Gimbel’s article in the Baltimore Sun celebrating Opening Day.
- The Stabler Foundation made an additional gift of $700,000 to the endowed scholarship fund it established at Gettysburg in 2012. Learn about the impact it’s making.
- Longtime biology professor Ralph Cavaliere continues to make mushrooms fun for students. Read about his class’s most recent experience.

BASEBALL WITH BURGIANS: Fenway Park, Yankee Stadium, Citizens Bank Park, Camden Yards and Nationals Park will be the location of Gettysburg events this summer, as once again G-burg Clubs have organized outings at Major League Baseball games. Here’s the lineup:

- Wed., June 4 – Philadelphia Phillies @ Washington Nationals, 7:05 p.m.
- Thurs., June 12 – Toronto Blue Jays @ Baltimore Orioles, 7:05 p.m.
- Thurs., June 19 – Toronto Blue Jays @ New York Yankees, 7:05 p.m.
- Sat., June 28 – Atlanta Braves @ Philadelphia Phillies, 3:05 p.m.
- Mon., July 28 – Toronto Blue Jays @ Boston Red Sox, 7:10 p.m.
- These games often sell out, so learn more and register today! All games include some sort of pre-game gathering, too.
- In addition, the Gettysburg baseball team will take on F&M at Yankee Stadium on a date TBA later this summer, and the stakes are high! An anonymous alum from G-burg and another from F&M are wagering $1 million on the “Baseball Challenge” outcome! The losing alum has to make a gift of $1 million to the chosen fund(s) at the winner’s school. Go Bullets! Stay tuned to future Bullet Points for more details.*

NAMING GAME: We need your marketing savvy! Loyal, annual giving is a tradition at Gettysburg, and to lift up and celebrate this good habit, we are looking to recognize and name the group of donors who practice this dedicated behavior. Here are details:

- The consecutive donor society will include those who make a gift for three or more consecutive years, or each year since graduation for recent alums.
- Alumni, parents and friends are all eligible.
- Gifts to any area of the College will count (Gettysburg Fund, Orange & Blue, endowed funds, special projects, etc.).

- Send your suggestion(s) for the name of our new consecutive donor society to gettysburg_fund@gettysburg.edu, and a $100 gift card to the College Bookstore will go to the person whose name is chosen.
- See additional details.

CAREER CORNER:

- Do you have a LinkedIn account, but know you don't really leverage it the way you could? Don't worry, you're among the vast majority of LinkedIn users who don't know how to make the most of it. But you can change that by taking part in a free Webinar on MONDAY, APRIL 21 available ONLY to Gettysburgians. Katherine Cornock Terhune '07, who is a Customer Education Specialist with LinkedIn, will share her expertise in a session entitled “Leveraging LinkedIn: Making it Work for You.” Register now.
- In addition to the “G-burg Only” LinkedIn presentation above, Gettysburgians are also invited to take part in our monthly Career Webinar series the first Wed. of every month. The April 2 installment (8 p.m. EDT) is entitled “Discover the Leader in YOU,” presented by author Al Duncan. Learn more and register.
- Are you interested in mentoring a fellow Gettysburgian? If so, learn more about the Young Alumni Leadership Program and volunteer to be a mentor! Also, if the program sounds of interest and you’re in New England, we’re taking the program on the road in the 2014-15 school year and will be holding it in Boston. Contact Jen Brennan '01 (jbrennan@gettysburg.edu) for more info.

FEATURED VIDEO:
Get Acquainted Day for the Class of 2018 is taking place on April 12. Watch the video from last year and share your memories on social media using #gburg2018 and #GotTheDot.

Also, this month on Instagram, student photographer Eric Lee ’15 will be running our Instagram account and posting student-submitted pictures from the Gettysburg College community. Follow Gettysburg College on Instagram and "like" your favorites.

TRIVIA TIME: In what month/year did the campus radio station first begin operation, and what were its call letters? A t-shirt goes to the first person to email alumni@gettysburg.edu with the correct answer.

Congratulations to last month’s winner, Jeffrey Glisson ’77, who was first to answer correctly that Patrick Hall was named after William H. Patrick, Jr. ’16 in June, 1969 – prior to that it had been known as North Dormitory (it opened in 1958).
