Gettysburg College Cares about your Safety and Wellbeing!
Sexual assault is a significant concern at college campuses across the country. Nationwide, it is estimated that 20 percent of women and 6 percent of men experience sexual assault or attempted sexual assault during their time in college. Our cultural stereotype of rape is a random attack by a stranger, but that is actually quite rare.

In a study published by the Department of Justice, 82 percent of the victims were raped by someone they knew, and 18 percent were raped by a stranger.

FACT: Sex without consent is sexual assault. A person can withdraw their consent at any time. Not responding to sexual advances is not consent. A "no" in any form, must be respected and listened to. Consent is actual words or conduct indicating a freely given agreement to engage in sexual activity. Sexual assault is never the victim's fault.

The Gettysburg College community is a strong one, and we have a collective responsibility to support people who have experienced sexual assault and/or to step in if we are in a position to prevent sexual assault.
