

Sociological Resources in Musselman Library

One of the most important aspects of writing papers for courses in the Sociology Department is knowing how to use the resources of Musselman Library and to find the information you need. The on-line Musselman Catalog, or MUSCAT, consists of a fully searchable list of all books, journals, videos, and other holdings at the Library. General reference guides of resources (whether in or outside Musselman) can be found in the Library's on-line databases, particularly Sociological Abstracts, and Social Sciences Abstracts. In addition, Dissertation Abstracts provides a list of recently published doctoral theses. The library also has bound copies of the Social Science Citation Index, a very useful resource. If you cannot locate a source, consult the reference librarians, who will do their best to help you. If the library does not have a book or article you need, you can request it through the interlibrary loan service. If the library doesn't have a book you got through interlibrary loan that you found helpful in doing research for a paper, be sure to suggest to your professor that it be ordered for the library.

Most sociology books are found in the H-HX range of call numbers in the library.

Below is a list of some periodicals in Musselman Library that include articles by sociologists, compiled by Prof. Sandy Gill. Some of the articles in these publications may be written by individuals who do not take a sociological approach. Sometimes it may not be clear whether the author is a sociologist, but you may be able to find clues by considering the author's institutional affiliation or the list of keywords or subjects, if the journal provides these.
