Non-Clinical Healthcare with Don Taylor P’14
Tues., Feb. 6th from 4pm-5pm in Science Center 200

Healthcare opportunities are broader than you think. Healthcare is 20% of the entire US economy. It touches all of our lives. This is a very complex industry with massive issues to solve. The change in healthcare is significant and needs smart young people to help navigate that change. The career opportunities are very broad including, clinical, big data, direct to consumer, sales, marketing, communications, and finance. I have had a broad experience in healthcare and want to share the potential opportunities for Gettysburg undergraduates to add to their career options.
